

Restoration of the Tyburn Stone Plaque Thursday 2 October 2014

A collection of Tyburn poems
written by pupils from Hampden
Gurney CE Primary School

Remembrance

Proudest

Strongest

Saddest

Coldest

Long ago the proudest, strongest fought,
The death was the saddest, coldest thought.

By Nikolas Boyd-Carpenter, Year 6

The Soldiers

Dashing

Smashing

Blasting

Lasting

Soldiers dashing, smashing through the fight,
Soldiers blasting, lasting through the night.

By Arzo Aria, Year 5

Remembrance

Killing

Willing

Filling

Drilling

Soldiers were killing, willing in fright,
Men were filling, drilling all the night.

By Lucia Requejo-Tabares, Year 3

Fighting at war

Charging

Barging

Smashing

Bashing

Through fields charging, barging in the mud,
Whilst smashing and bashing with a thud.

By Sofia Helmy and Kirsty-Leigh Rock, Year 5

Remembrance

Crying

Dying

Grieving

Sobbing

At death is crying, dying at night,

And all the grieving, sobbing with fright.

By Fintan Delaney, Year 4

Remember

Fighting

Shooting

Dying

Hoping

Soldiers bravely fighting shooting men,

Many soldiers dying hoping then.

By Elizabeth Wang, Year 6

Remembrance

Dreadful

Fearful

Tearful

Peaceful

It was dreadful and fearful that night,

After was a tearful but peaceful light.

By Lila Kar, Year 4

Destruction

Darkness

Hopeless

Heartless

Mindless

Lost in the darkness, the hopeless fight,

Ever in the heartless, mindless night.

By Marie Moszynska, Year 5

Remembrance

Crying

Trying

Sighing

Dying

The men were crying, trying to fight,
Soldiers are sighing, dying at night.

By Chloe Mole, Year 3

Edgware Road Partnership works to lift the appearance of Edgware Road, improve the experience and create a better gateway to Central London, working with local businesses and residents, Westminster City Council and Transport for London.

Registered Office:

63-65 North Wharf Road
London W2 1LA

T 020 3145 1200

E info@edgwareroadpartnership.co.uk

W edgwareroadpartnership.co.uk

T Follow us on Twitter @MyEdgwareRoad